

Executive]

> The Lebanese National Committee for Transition to Digital TV announced that it has launched its operations to transform Lebanon's current analog broadcasting system to a digital one. It said that the transition would be completed before June 17, 2015. It noted that Lebanon has to shift its current broadcasting system due to technical, economic and environmental needs.